FORMER VIRGINIAN NAMED

Hon. Page Morris Nominated by President for Federal Bench-Bill to Pension Mrs. Reed is Dead-Other Washington News Notes.

By Walter Edward Harris. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 19.-

Congressman Lamb said to-day he would make a new move for a postoffice building at Richmond, which he hoped would prove successful.

If he succeeds, the result will be the location of the postoffice on Broad Street and the conversion of the present building into a sub-station. He thinks the custom-house should remain in the old custom-house should remain in the old building.

Mr. Lemb says he thinks he will endeavor to have the public buildings bill amended so as to authorize the expenditure of $150,000 for the property between Ninth and Tenth Streets on the south side of Broad as a site for a government building. He says he knows the property can be acquired for $150,000. Of course, should such an amendment be adopted, it would not cause the early erection of a building, but Mr. Lamb thinks there is now no prospect of the government's purchasing the Shafer property at the price fixed by the jury in the condemnation proceedings Tuesday. Mr. Lamb is not certain he will pursue the course outlined, but he saw Mr. Mercer, chairman of the Committee on Public Buildings, this morning and urged him to allow such an amendment. The Chairman would not say he would take this course.

There is some prospect of such an arrendment being placed in the bill. Whether or not this is done it is believed here that eventually the postoffice will be located on Broad Street.

The President sent to the Senate to-day the nomination of Hon. Page Morris to be United States district judge for the district of Minnesota. Mr. Morris is a native of Lynchburg, but has practiced law in Minnesota for many years. The appointment will probably be confirmed at once, but the new judge will not go on the bench until the first of next July. Mr. Morris is now the Republican member, from the Sixth Minnesota District, Mr. Morris was educated at William and Mary College and the Virginia Military Listitute. The city was magnificently illuminated and decorated, and weather ideal, and the throng of visitors greater than ever.

Miss Roosevelt, Miss Root and other visitors viewed the parade from the citip galleries. Admiral Schley stood beside Mayor Capdevielle, at the City Hall plattform and was given an ovation.

The Momus Ball was especially brilliant, with Miss May Schwartz as queen. Admiral Rivet, of the French cruiser Tage, and Admiral Schley occupied a box together. Miss Alice Roosevelt was again made part of the royal court, and especial attentions were showered upon her, During the parade she occupied a special section of the Boston Club balcony. The officers of the battleship Texas and the French cruiser attended the ball, and with the Indian costumes of the maskers and the rich toliets of the ladles, made the scene unusually picturesque and inspiring.

Negro Mass Meeting in New York Adopts Resolutions.

ROOSEVELT WAS CHEERED

New Constitution of Virginia Came In for Greatest Share of Denunciation. Appeal Made for Confirmation of Crum's Nomination.

(By Associated Press.) / NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Spirited and earnest speeches were made at a negro mass-meeting held to-night at the Cooper Union. The meeting, which was for the purpose of protesting against the distranchisement of the negro in the South, was held under the auspices of the 109,000 colored voters in New York State, and to raise money for the legal contest of the new Constitution of Virginia before the Supreme Court of the United States. Among the speakers were Bishops Derrick and Walters, M. D. Conway and John E. Mullholland.
When the reference was made to President Roosevelt by several of the speakers, the wildest enthusiasm prevailed, and the cheers were deafening. Resolutions were passed and a letter from Susan B. Anthony was read, in which she said: she said:
"To refuse to qualified women and colwhether or not the negro shall be allowed civil and equal rights is an important one, which the enemies of the colored man took advantage of because of the silence on that subject during the administration of the late President McKinley. He said, however, that the great man now in the White House has taken his stand against the elimination of the negro from politics. "Talk about negro suffrage," said Bishop Wallers; "had it not been for the negro these thirty years the Republican party would not have been in power. We ask for office because we contributed to party success. We have a right to hold office.

"They told us to be quiet and we ceased our agitation, and when while we were silent State after State went on distranchising the negro. Let us contend for our rights until we get them."

Bishop Derrick, who was warmly greeted, said in part:

"Famous men who in the years past stood on this very platform fought with all their might to have the shackles removed from the negro limbs. But there is work still to be done. The shackles of political slavory have yet to be removed.

"Are not we citizens? If we are not then the American remaining the negro."

moved.

"Are not we citizens? If we are not, then the American republic is a most colossal liar. If suffrage with the negro is a failure then the white man's government is a failure.

"We are not here to night to abuse the South, but we are here to ask the American people to help us get our rights. We have shown ourselves worthy of them."

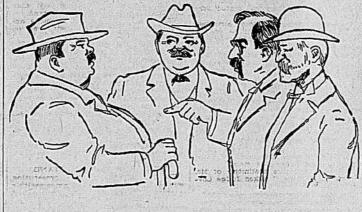

Moncure D. Conway described himself as an abolitionist from Virginia.

"As there is to be no violence in this agitation." Conway said, "I want to see the conscience of the country aroused. I want to see the amendments which were put in the Constitution at the sacrifice of 500,00—the flower of the country—and at an expense of three billion of dollars, maintained in full force."

"The trouble, however, is farther back and deeper than the disfranchisement of the negro. When men deliberately refuse to include women in the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the National Constitution, they leave the way open for all forms of injustice to other, and weaker men and peoples. When men fall to be just to their mothers, they cannot be expected to be just to each other.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The resolutions in their preamble recited that the South has halted at no crime to strip from the negro the privileges gained as a resuit of the Civil War, shooting 25,000 black men from 1868 to 1880, and from 1880 to 1890 perpetrating ballot frauds to disenfranchise colored men in various States by constitutional amendment, administered so that illiterate white men are allowed to vote, while educated

CRUM NOMINATION.

Resolved, That we urge the Republican Senate in the name of 100,000 negroes in New York State to confirm the nomination of Dr. Crum, a man of ability, good education and irreproachable character, whose appointment is opposed solely on the ground of the color of his skin. It would be an unheard of thing for the party of Lincoln to ratify the position of the South on this question, and thus side with the extremist form of Southern prejudice and formally consent that the door of hope, of opportunity, is to be shut on a man, no matter how worthy, purely upon the grounds of race and color.

COLUMBIA, S. C., February 19 .- Chief Justice Pope to-day refused the application of James H. Tillman for ball. It was the rule of the court, he said, reason governing the decision, With the must do his duty and decline the application without prejudice to the case of the detion without prejudice to the case of the defendant.

A multitude of affidavits, covering the case were presented by the State and a large number in reply were read for the defendant. The State presented a numbr of affidavits from Edgefield people impeaching the testimony of the affiant Holtzbake, and also declaring that the affiant White was a paralytic past fifty years old, the result of paralysis being to weaken will power and moral nature. The defense replied with affidavits sustaining the reputation of Holtzbake and the compelency of White. The State presented an affidavit from Representative Lancaster, of Spartansburg, that he saw a pistol in Tillman's pocket on the day preceding the shooting, and another from a Columbia gunsmith that F. H. Dominick, of Newberry, previous to the shooting brought him a magazine of a pistol, and that he repaired it.

E. J. Watson, of the State, swore to a conversation with Tillman last summer, in which the latter requested him to tell Gonzales substantially that a continuance of the newspaper attacks would be at his part). Watson desired br of affidavits from Edgefield people im-in which the latter requested him to tell Gonzales substantially that a continuance of the newspaper attacks would be at his perli. Watson declined to convey the message. O. D. Black, a railroad man, made affidavit that Tiliman told him on a train, and again in August, that he was going to kill Gonzales, exhibiting the magazine pistol. Robert Lathan, Mr. Gonzales 'stenographer, swore to a statement of Mr. Gonzales taken by him when he had death in view, and relating the story of the shooting, Mr. Gonzales declared he had sent rillman no message, and considered the matter ended. Several well known citiens of Columbia, who saw the shooting testified that Gonales made no threatening motion.

W. R. Call, of Camden, and M. C. Lorick, made affidavits corroborating the story told by Holtzbake and Tillman. Tillman made another affidavit saying that Gonzales had been persecuting him for ten years. He denied the stories of threats told by Watson and others.

In the argument the State stressed the point among many others, that the language used by Gonzales as to the white feather did not, constitute, a threat when coupled with the fact that at no time before had Mr. Gonzales employed any violence toward Tillman.

The letter lays down the following conclusions arrived at by Emparer William.

"I believe in the one and only God. We may need a form in order to teach His existence, especially for our children. This form has hitherto been the 'Old Testament.' The present version of this will be positively and substantially modified under the influence of research through inscriptions and excavations. That does not matter. Neither does it matter that much of the nimbus of the chosen people will thereby disappear. The kernel of the contents of the Old Testament will remain always the same—God and His works. Religion has never been the result of science, but the pourling out of the heart and being of man from intercourse with God." I believe in the one and only God. We Petersburg for the Crown Prince's approaching visit there.

The daughters of the Czar are said to be preity and most engaging little grand duchesses. They are Oiga, Tatiana and Marle. In half a dozen years from now the Grand Duchess Oiga, if she maintains her present rate of development in beauty and intelligence, will be one of the greatest matrimonial catches among European princesses.

The Crown Prince is young enough, so that marriage is not an immediate necessity.
